

Held-out models: the canonical test detects 84% of behaviour-changing faults, the battery 98%
(n = 82 faults on 6 models never used in development; detection reproducible at h and h/2)

